Patricia Kitchen Crowned Queen

High School Icequake Favored With Fine Weather And Big Crowd

About a thousand people, the largest number yet to crowd into the new Wainwright Ice Arena, watched with enthusiasm the crowning of Miss Patricia Kitchen as Queen of the "Wainwright High School Fifth Annual Icequake last Saturday night. It was by far the best carnival of the five, and spectators came away well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

The students offered a varied and interesting program that included the crowning ceremony, a costume contest, races, skating numbers by the Skating Club, a skit by Les Cadets, broom-ball, pee-wee hockey, and the usual ball fight.

The costumes were many and varied. Many persons, chiefly young people, seized the opportunity to dress up in their carnival attire. The many colorful and ingeniously dressed skaters gliding about the ice was one of the high points of interest for the spectators. The prize winning costumes were as follows:

PANCY DRESS: first, Raymond Cromie as Buttons and Bow; second, Betty Torrance and Shirley Patterson as a Spanish don and senorita.

ORIGINAL: first, Gladys and Bobby Tory as a Dutch boy and girl; second, Barbara Conroy as Florence Nightingale.

COMIC: first, Peggy Hallett and Joan Welsh (of Edgerton), as Donald Duck and Elsie the Cow; second, Alice Stinson as Peter Rabbit.

The Skating Club girls offered two very pleasing numbers - a military number and a teen-age ballet. This group of twenty girls, under the capable leadership of Mrs. Foxall, also delighted the local audience at the recent Ice Show.

The graceful rhythm of Mary West and Jimmy Robinson in a waltz on skates was something approaching the class of professionals. Eileen Novak and Naomi Mockford, in a comedy act entitled "Daisy Mae and Liza Abner," performed with a grace and dexterity that was commendable in such inexperienced performers.

The Sea Cadets presented a comedy act called "The Petty Officer's Nightmare," with their uniforms on backward and with masks on the backs of their heads. They kept the audience in a state of laughter as they responded to the parade ground orders of Petty Officer-Pilgrim.

To the younger members of the audience, the ball fight was probably the best act of all. Johnny West, as the matador, dexterously avoided the mad rushes of the enraged creature. But when the bull returned after an interval, it was evident that the matador had come out second best. However, when Mr. Teskey, foolishly and unwittingly, captured the bull, he discovered to his sorrow that the bull still had much fight left in him.

Congratulations are due to Miss Patricia Kitchen and her sponsors, the EKs, for the convincing way she rolled up votes to outdistance her competitors. Accompanied by her father, in waiting, Misses Irene Lotawsky, Dorothy Meyer and Edith Hallett, she was a regal figure as she moved about the ice to take her place at the throne where she was crowned by His Worship Mayor Robinson.

Near the end of the evening the girls' broom-ball game created a continuous furor as the ball threatened to invade first one goal, then the other. The pee-wee hockey game brought the fans to their feet repeatedly. It was a hard and earnestly fought contest.

The evening came to an end with general skating and moccasin dance until 11:30 p.m.

The races did not attract many participants but were nevertheless closely contested affairs. The results follow:

Boys 10 and under: 1. Ken Kille; 2. Ray Cromie; 3. Gary Campbell.

Girls 10 and under: 1. Margaret West; 2. Gale Sheffield; 3. Kay Simonson.

Legion Sponsors Saturday Night Hockey Program

There's another big treat coming up for Wainwright hockey fans this week - for on Saturday night Worthington branch of the B.E.S.L. are sponsoring a Pee-Wee and Midget Hockey Tournament in which two Wainwright teams will meet two Irma teams.

Marshall Wells Zeniths will tackle the Irma Pee-Wee and Maranda's Canadians are scheduled to defend the town's honor against the Irma Midgets.

Just to add to the general fun of the evening there will be a broom-ball game and in the time that's left, public skating.

This is another chance to give the coming up hockey players a little support and spend a pleasant evening in the bargain.

Good music will be provided and lunch will be available.

Part of the proceeds will go toward the P.M.C. funds.

WHY TAKE CHANCES?

Subscribing for, rather than borrowing, a newspaper may be most convenient, but least troublesome way to get your daily reading done, according to the following item which appeared recently in the Selma (Alabama) Times Journal:

"A man, who was not a subscriber to his home town paper, sent his little boy to borrow a copy from his neighbor. In haste, the boy ran over a stand of bees and, in 10 minutes, he looked like a warty summer squash. His father ran to his assistance and, failing to notice the barbed wire fence,

"The baby, being left alone, crawled through the cream into the parlor, ruining a brand new $50 carpet. During the excitement, the eldest daughter eloped with the hired man, the dog broke up 11 setting hens and the calves got out and the tails off four fine shirts on the clothes line."

"Moral: Don't borrow your neighbor's paper! It's too risky."

Frankly, we are inclined to feel that Mr. Brady's misfortune was an exception rather than the general rule. But reports are that he took no more chances. The Argus Farmer

Surely the Board (the Winner's War Board) knows what democracy is. It is the line that forms at the right. It is the dent in the don't show. It is the hole in the stuffed shirt through which the sawdust slowly trickles; it is the dent in the high hat. Democracy is the recurrent suspicion that more than half the people are right more than half the time. It is the feeling of privacy in the voting booth, the feeling of communion in libraries, the feeling of vitality everywhere. Democracy is a letter to the editor. Democracy is the score at the beginning of the ninth. It is the idea which hasn't been disproved yet, a song, the words of which have not gone bad. It's the mustard on the hot dog. It's the salt on the egg. It's the life. Democracy is a request from a War Board, in the middle of a war, to resign in the middle of a war wanting to know what democracy is.—E. B. ### BACK-SLOPED ROADS

You have heard a great deal of discussion during the past few years with regard to the building of back-sloped roads in the M.D. of Wainwright No. 61. In fact one councillor, with the cooperation of a few farmers, went so far as to build one mile of such a road as a demonstration. This particular road has received some very satisfactory criticism of late, especially after the serious snow condition of the winter 1947-48. Since the recent snow it is holding its own as an all-weather road.

Advantages—

When we first speak of back-sloped roads, there are a few advantages that should be considered, and to assume the cost of all dirt work and seed tag down to a recommended grass mix, providing the farmers along whose land the road goes, will remove all fences, brush, rock and any obstructions for a distance of sixteen (16) feet back from their property line to provide adequate back-sloping. After the dirt-work is complete, a proper seed bed is prepared and then seeded down to an approved mixture of grasses and legumes. The road is constructed so that all growth can be mowed with the minimum amount of trouble. With the growth of grasses and legumes that can be expected, the weed growth is reduced to a minimum. The road-side being mowed in the fall and the ditch being so constructed, there is a free sweep of the snow over the grade. Only in severe cases will the snow pile up to hinder free travel most of the winter months. Thus the cost of snow-piling is reduced to a minimum.

The road being so constructed that seeding is done from 16 feet inside the property line to the shoulder of the grade, the farmer has gained about 15% acres of grass land per half mile, thus a further acreage could be seeded down inside the property providing a practical and attractive hay meadow.

A movement is underway now, whereby farmers will be encouraged to plant a row of trees some 125 feet back from the property line, to eventually become a natural snowfence and save the expense of artificial snow-fence. In this way provide funds for further back-sloping of roads. A road so constructed becomes a far safer and more attractive road to drive on in comparison to the High-Graded road of today.

Back-sloping of roads, for the next few years, will have to come as a request from the farmers. It might be good advice to suggest that you organize soon where you would like these roads to go, and then act in a request to your respective councillor to build the road as soon as he finds it practical.

REDUCING POTATO PLANTING

United States potato growers in the late and intermediate States have indicated their intention to plant potatoes on 1.41 million acres in 1949. This acreage is 7 per cent smaller than that planted in 1948.

HOARY CRESS

Hoary Cress is a persistent, deeply rooted perennial weed. The plants grow to a height of from one to two feet, with upright stems, and numerous branches if not too closely crowded. Stems and leaves are usually covered with fine hairs. The leaves are oval in shape, with distinct branching veins and regular edges. The flowers are small and white, only about an eighth of an inch in width with 4 petals. They are arranged in tufts at the ends of branches and give the plant a white top appearance. Seed pods form abundantly in clusters, each pod being a two lobed sack and bearing a short spine at the top. The roots penetrate deeply, are tough and woody in texture, and send out creeping root stocks. Wherever Hoary Cress becomes established it takes complete possession of the soil, crowding out, all other plants. It propagates by both root stocks and seed.

TESTING FARM SEED SUPPLIES

To provide western farmers with complete and reliable information as to the quality and value of their own grain for seedling purposes, the Line Elevator Companies, sponsors of the Farm Service Department, operate, at no small cost to themselves, a cereal seed testing laboratory noted for efficiency and dependability. Farmers are invited to make the maximum use of it. This year, Line Elevators Farm Service will again undertake to make the following tests, free of charge, on farmers' seed samples of wheat, oats, barley, rye and flax: (1) Germination, (2) Smut and other seed-borne diseases, (3) Weed seed content, (4) Purity of variety, (5) Mechanical seed injury.

Farmers are invited to deliver seed samples for testing to their nearest Line Elevator Agent, as soon as possible, and to instruct him as to which tests are required. The samples must consist of at least 1 ounce and not more than 6 ounces of clean seed. We urge farmers to be sure to submit samples which are truly representative of the lot of seed to be tested. Country grain buyers will provide clean seed envelopes, and will forward the samples to Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg.

TWO NEW CEREALS WELL DISTRIBUTED

The successful distribution achieved in 1948 of Saunders and Redman wheat gave considerable satisfaction to the Cereal Division, Experimental Farms Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Saunders, which does best in the area extending from central Alberta north to the Peace River district, is a high-yielding, early maturing spring wheat variety. It could hardly have come at a better time either, since it provides the perfect alternative for farmers who will be getting out of Red Bobs, now that the decision to degrade Red Bobs has been announced.

Redman, which is most suited to Manitoba and eastern Saskatchewan is also high-yielding and offers more resistance to leaf rust than other varieties. It is also more drought resistant than Regent, which is the dominant variety in that area at the present time.

Sufficient stocks of Saunders and Redman seed are now available in the areas mentioned and represent two more victories won by the cereallists in their long struggle against drought, disease and insects.

The cereallists improved their position in that struggle during the year, too, by enlarging their base of operations at Lethbridge, Alta. Lethbridge now has a full-fledged cereal breeding laboratory where the plant breeders are in the same building and working in full cooperation with the entomologists and plant pathologists. This marks another step in the closer cooperation and integration of the work of the Experimental Farms and Science branches.

A satisfactory method of eradication of this weed has not been found as yet. Five years' summerfallow has failed to kill it out, and plants have been found on land that has been blacked out with Sodium Chlorate for three years. Persistence in cutting up the root growth and not letting the plants go to seed is the only method of control that is known, but to date it is only a method of control, not eradication.

HATCH YOUR CHICKS EARLY FOR PROFIT

Progressive poultrymen favour the brooding of early hatched chicks for sound economic reasons. Chief among these is the obvious fact that early hatched pullets will be the late summer and fall producers of market eggs which to the commercial egg producer means more profit since this is the period of low supply and higher prices. The same reasoning applies to the rearing of early cockerels which are marketed while the demand is keen and prices high, says H. J. West, Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, Alta.

Such a plan is also economical in the use of labour since it comes during the somewhat slack period before spring work and gardening claim attention. As a result, better care is taken of these chicks than would be the case for those hatched later in the season. Coupled with this is the general observation that more efficient and effective operation of brooder stoves is possible during cold weather, particularly if the brooder house is well insulated.

Brooder equipment may be more economically used if two groups of chicks, one in February and one in May, are reared. Many of the chicks near early hatched pullets follow the practice of purchasing turkey poulters or cockerels in May when the early chicks are on range, his confidence in the length of time the brooder equipment is in use and thus minimizes the cost per bird for this portion of the overhead expenses.

Heavy losses from coccidiosis are less likely to occur in early hatched chicks since cold weather has an inhibiting effect on the development of coccidia oocysts.

Rearing chicks in cold weather calls for a higher degree of efficiency than would the rearing of late chicks. The extra expense is justified and soon returned in the form of greater net profits. However, proper use and care of equipment must be taken if the best results are to be expected. The chief abuse in this respect is over-crowding of the brooder house. A building 10 feet by 12 feet should not be expected to accommodate more than 240 chicks up to 5 weeks of age and half this number for the full growing period.

REGISTERED SEED MORE PROFITABLE

Seldom in the history of farming in the Prairie Provinces have farmers had such a fine opportunity to obtain good seed at reasonable prices as they have at the present time. A large surplus of registered seed in 1948 has caused seed growers to voluntarily reduce prices of registered seed to comparatively low levels. Farmers therefore who have any doubts regarding the purity of their stocks would do well to consider replacing a portion of these with good registered seed. Registered seed means a guarantee of high variety purity, soundness, freedom from disease as well as freedom from weed seeds. Off-types and admixtures in a grain field are often the cause of reduced yield and lowered grade. The use of registered seed would tend to increase the farmer's income. Farmers might also consider the

FORAGE CROP SEED

The Alberta Government has reserved large supplies of Alfalfa, Bromegrass, Wheat, and Sweet Clover seed which are now available at cost and by prepaid freight. Seed Agents have been appointed as follows: Chauvin, C. Cranston, Edgerton, R. Kingston, Wainwright, W. Maddex. If you wish to be sure of your grass seed, order now.

LAYING MASHES

A good many flocks in this district have been laying all winter. In all cases where production has been good, well balanced laying mash have been fed. Here living inside for several months have no means of balancing their own ration, so the owner must do it for them. It pays to use commercial laying mash.

NEW BULLETINS

Several new bulletins have come to this office during the last week. Titles include: Best Utilization in Prairie Agriculture, Land Clearing, Ice Storage, Cattle Feedlot Finishing, Electricity on the Farm, Home Processing of Fruits and Vegetables. These and many more bulletins on all phases of Agriculture are available on request from this office.

GREEN FOXTAIL

This weed, sometimes called wild millet, is spreading rapidly through this district. It is an annual that crowds grain crops and reduces yields especially in a dry year. Seeds will not germinate in the fall hence prevention of seed setting is the chief method of control. Summerfallow or green feed crops are recommended.

BEE AND BEE SUPPLIES

Now is the time to get orders in for bees for the coming season. As most of the package bees come to Canada from the States it is necessary to have orders into associations well in advance so that ample supplies will be received. Home-grown bees are a part of every farm program. Bees are easily kept and produce large amounts of honey for the cost of initial investment.

fact that in the light of present prices and labour costs, it would be more profitable in many cases to purchase reasonably priced registered seed than to go to the expense of cleaning up home-grown seed. This would be particularly true in the case of grain containing a high weed seed content or admixtures difficult of removal.

GETTING READY FOR CHICKS

One of the best ways to ruin a good batch of chicks is to place them in a colony house which has not been properly cleaned. The saying—"What they can't see, can't hurt them"—may be satisfactory for an inexperienced poultry man but it can be very hard on baby chicks, says J. D. McConachie, Poultry Department, Ontario Agricultural College.

The first steps in cleaning a brooder house are to remove all the litter and sweep down the dust and cobwebs from the walls, ceiling and windows. The floors and roosts should be cleaned thoroughly with a scraper. The next step is to soak the floor with water for a day or more to loosen any remaining litter. Then, using plenty of water and a coarse brush, wash the floor until the last trace of dirt is removed. When the floor is completely clean, apply a strong lye solution to destroy any mites which can withstand frost in the floor cracks. The roosts, roost supports and walls should be painted with crank case oil to a height of about one foot above the floor. If applying whitewash, do not use salt in the mixture.

The roosts in the range sheds must be scraped and then washed and the under-structure cleaned of all adhering droppings. Paint the roosts and under-structure with used crank case oil, making sure all cracks and corners are well covered.

Remember that good sanitation is cheap insurance, so do your cleaning

58,954 ACRES INTO NEW CROP IN '48

Canadian farmers—3,203 in six provinces—borrowed $492,688.56 under the Farm Improvement Loans Act in 1948 to clear and break 58,954 acres of land for new crop production.

Alberta led all other provinces, using $118,121.15 for clearing and breaking 35,875 acres. Nova Scotia was last, obtaining $180 to clear and break 24 acres.

Rapid expansion of productive farming has been made possible by the development of modern mechanized machinery to clear and break new land. Because this machinery is available on a custom basis, farmers and land settlers have been hampered in the past, by cash shortages, in getting the benefit of this mechanized equipment.

With the advent of the Act in 1944, however, funds became available to farmers in outlying areas for this work, and as a result of these loans 182,514 acres have been brought under cultivation since 1946.

During 1948, Danish butter and egg exports were above the previous year, but these exports showed a decrease. The total figure for 1948, butter exports was 105,000 tons, about 50 thousand more than in 1947.

The export of eggs increased from 20 thousand tons in 1947 to 35.5 thousand in 1948. These exports show a reduction from 123 thousand tons in 1947 to 12.6 thousand in 1948.

Job thoroughly, well in advance of the arrival date of your chicks.

The field of Agricultural Engineering

should be developed very rapidly ## in the immediate future. Farms are ## becoming highly mechanized and ## many problems are awaiting practical ## solutions.

The 1948 census for Alberta shows ## that the total valuation for the 90,000

farms in Alberta was $48 million ## dollars. Nearly one-half of this valuation ## was in the land. The livestock were ## valued at 141 million dollars. The farm ## buildings were valued at 181 million

dollars, while machinery was 153 million ## dollars. The total for buildings and ## machinery was $34 million dollars, or ## about 250 per cent of the livestock

value. The investment in buildings

and machinery is steadily ## increasing. The 1946 figures are nearly ## 100 million higher than 1941, or an ## increase of 40%. The farm requires a ## high investment in proper buildings

and machinery to reduce labor and ## increase production. The Department of ## Agricultural Engineering at the University ## of Alberta should be equipped to ## aid and advise farmers along the ## Committee set up in each district and

Control of grasshoppers is something

THE ORIGIN OF O.K.

The expression is an Indian word, which was used by the Chactaw Indian tribe, meaning (it is so) and it is also of repeated story that illustrious American miners were in the habit of certifying payments to them in connection with the sale of gold dust by appending to their receipts the abbreviation OK which represented the two words all correct. Many people today use these initials instead of the expression, all right.

The Address In Reply to the Speech To the Throne

(Mr. Robert Fair)

Delivered in the House of Commons on February 2 and February 3, 1949

February 2, 1949

Mr. Robert Fair (Battle River):

Speaker, in opening my remarks this afternoon I want to extend the usual congratulations to the mover and seconder of the address in reply to the speech from the throne. Realizing I have only twenty minutes left before the house adjourns this afternoon, I want to devote a little of my time to the introduction of an editorial which appeared in Maclean's magazine of January 15, 1949. The editorial to which I refer is on page 1 and reads as follows:

"Floor prices for farm products sound like a good idea. After all, the farmer is entitled to some security. Nobody wants to go back to the days when the price of wheat was so low that a farmer's net return for a season's crop was less than the freight charges to take it to market. But these are not such times. Today food prices are the highest in history. The city man, even with a higher cash income, finds the cost of living has wiped out his gain. The farmer, for the moment, is the man on top. His real earnings are higher than they have ever been. Yet at this moment of unprecedented prosperity, taxpayers of the United States and of Canada have to lay out money for crops that are not being used because they cannot be sold at current prices. Washington has been buying potatoes, mountains of them for two years at a 'support price' so high that the American consumer has difficulty paying for all his needs. Now Canada is to do the same thing.

Western farmers, who have been buying off their debt with bumper wheat crops, this year 'railed more' than anybody wants to buy. Who is stuck with the resultant surplus? The taxpayer. He is buying it at the handsome price of $1 a bushel. These devices for maintaining farm income might be justifiable if the farmer were in trouble. What shall we say of them now?

Here's the whole world crying for food. Every acre of land ought to be in use for the needed crops. Land can be stored, shipped, eaten by the millions who are starving abroad. So long as governments are willing to buy unmarketable crops at boom prices, land will be misused. And so long as prices are maintained above the levels at which consumers can afford to buy, food needed by the hungry will go to waste.

Essentially, it's the same principle that led to the burning of grain, the slaughter of sucking pigs and the plowing under of crops in the 1930's. This is economic lunacy and we can't afford it.

In my opinion, Mr. Speaker, this editorial is journalistic lunacy; and I hope the representative of Maclean's in the gallery so he may be able to give more information to those unsuspecting people he tried to deceive. I am, of course, not a journalist. I am, first of all, perhaps I should give the net income of farmers for a number of years, and if anyone wishes to check these figures I think they will be able to do so.

In the writing of this editorial, I think it is only right to give both sides of the story. In that way we avoid creating hate, mistrust and bad feeling and instead help national unity. The editorial writer neglected to tell the people of Canada that the farmers of this country, who he now says are too well off, provided cheap bread for all Canada during the war. He did not say that for quite a while the millers were supplied with wheat at 77¢ cents a bushel, bonused by the government. A little later the price paid by the millers went to 81¢ and later to 84¢, where I believe it still stands, though today wheat is selling for $2.30 or $2.35 a bushel. Who is absorbing that subsidy again, not so long ago the Minister of Trade and Commerce made the statement in this house that the Canadian wheat board would sell wheat to all comers at a maximum price of $1.55 a bushel. At that time wheat could have been sold at a much higher price; but the farmers were paid $1.55. Maclean's forgot to tell their readers this. During the war years our farmers also supplied wheat to disillaters and others at a subsidized price, but Maclean's did not mention that. They also forgot to tell their readers that back in 1931 and 1932 Canadian farmers sold No. 1 northern wheat, the best wheat grown in the world at 19¢ cents a bushel. At that time this editorial writer did not come around and offer to have our rate of interest cut from eight per cent to a more reasonable rate of two or three per cent. He was silent at that time, and so was Maclean's. Perhaps they should give some of this information as well to their readers. He also forgot to say that up to the end of July, 1942, the initial price for our wheat was 70¢ cents a bushel basis No. 1 northern wheat. William, even though at that time we had been in the war for three years and the farmers were paying exorbitant prices for the things they had to buy.

I cannot understand people writing editorials like this without giving both sides of the story. Then there is another item, perhaps small, which comes under the heading of the British wheat agreement. The editorial writer forgot to tell the people that out of the 1948 crop the Canadian wheat board supplied the people of Britain with 160,000 bushels of wheat at $1.55 a bushel. I am not blaming the wheat board for that; they were simply administering government policy. Out of the 1947 crop a similar amount was supplied at the same price. Out of the 1948 crop 140,000 bushels is to be supplied at $2 a bushel; and according to the latest information the same price will apply in 1949, the fourth and last year of the contract.

Again let me make it plain that we in this group did not object to Britain getting wheat at that price. We felt we had a moral obligation to that country. We feel that should not be the job of the farmers of the prairie provinces, because they are the only ones involved in supplying this cheap wheat to the British people. The supplying of this wheat should be undertaken by this wheat shippers, and the difference between the price under the British wheat agreement and the class 1 price should have been taken out of the consolidated revenue fund and divided among the farmers who delivered wheat to that pool.

While we were selling wheat at that price, class 1 wheat being sold by the wheat shippers to countries other than Britain brought as high as $2.40 per bushel. This group initiated the demand, now taken up by other groups, that the government make up the difference between those two prices.

There has been no announcement from the government as yet, but before this session ends I should like the Minister of Agriculture (Mr. Gardiner) or the Minister of Trade and Commerce (Mr. Howe) of the Prime Minister (Mr. St. Laurent) to tell the country that they intend to do about that money which has wrongfully been confiscated from the prairie farmers.

As I have said, the 1946-47 crop year. During the early days of August of last year, after the end of the 1947-48 crop year, newspaper reports were to the effect that farmers had lost approximately $1.25 per bushel on the last year's deliveries. I am not saying these figures are accurate, but based on the figures the loss would total $206 million, making a grand total of $239 million as the apparent loss under the British wheat agreement.

What will happen during the 1948 and 1949 crop years are not in a position to say. As I stated earlier, it would not be fair to say now that is a definite loss. Unless improved prices are obtained, however, before the contract is terminated, then that must be considered a net loss.

Moreover, many people are not aware that our coarse-grain prices were based on the price of wheat under the British wheat agreement. They are not aware that the price of beef and pork was based on the price of coarse grains. This whole matter can be put down to the price of wheat under the British wheat agreement during the years it has been in effect. People are not aware, either, that during the war years, when we contracted to sell large quantities of beef and pork to Britain, there was a guaranteed floor price at the seaboard for the packers but not one single bit of profit for the producer.

On many occasions we have asked to have this matter straightened out, but we have not had any satisfaction so far. The price of the early years of the war the farmers were told that, if they were content to accept low prices then and we were told about the need for food in other countries which the farmers and their wives and families delivered in large quantities both overseas and at home—they would have more guarantee after the war was over. The only guarantee the farmer has received is the low price being obtained under the contract. Apparently the "have regard" clause of the agreement does not carry any weight. Judging from newspaper reports, the trip of the Minister of Agriculture (Mr. Gardiner) to Britain brought no benefit. The price for the 1948 crop should have been fixed during December of last year. We find that has been postponed until after the end of the election period, namely, July 31, 1950. By that time we expect the general election, about which there has been so much talk, will have been held. On motion of Mr. Fair the debate was adjourned.

The Chemistry equipment and tables, though adequate, must share a classroom in the grey building. The students' desks there are so crowded together it is difficult to pass between them or between them and the heater.

A modern High School building must have room for students' lockers. These lockers are necessary to hold gym clothes, excess books that desks will not accommodate, etc., and should be reasonably close to classrooms. The only available space for lockers here is in the toilets.

Physical Education is an obligatory subject in grade X and lower grades. Where credits are offered as in Grade X, it must be taken three times a week. We, of necessity, must disregard the regulations and take P.E. when the weather will permit of outdoor activity. Our only gymnasium is a basement room about 30 by 40 feet in the brick school. This is also the only playground for the school.

The fifth High School classroom is in the companion basement in the brick school. In it are offered such classes as Typewriting, Art, Geography, Gen. Math. It would appear to be a converted furnace room. It has good artificial lighting, a good floor, and all is said. It is reached by way of the gymnasium (?) making the latter something of a room.

A modern gymnasium-auditorium is a "must" in a present day school. It has both social and academic uses. At present in our school there is no place that can be called an assembly room. I find myself handicapped in the administration of the school by reason of the fact that the students may not be brought together at one point. A gymnasium-auditorium would provide a place for student social functions that would improve the school morale. It would permit the offering of a proper course in Physical Education. It would facilitate the development of dramatic talent, a talent that is almost entirely undeveloped in the town today. It is necessary for the proper presentation of musical concerts. Such a hall is absolutely necessary in a school program of the future. It is the greatest single need in the school today.

What I have written must not be interpreted as a criticism of the local or divisional School Boards. They have probably done their best considering that money spent on temporary buildings is largely wasted and assuming that money has been none too plentiful for building purposes. What we need is a long range plan of building. That is impossible so long as finances permit of only temporary structures. But, perhaps times have changed and that plan can now be made. I have ideas with respect to school architecture that will be available if and when the Board desires them. But the immediate objective is to convince the Board and ratepayers that building improvement is necessary in view of modern educational requirements.

I am afraid that this is becoming rather boring reading; so I will carry it no further other than to say that visitors will be welcomed at the school. I shall be delighted to show the school to any interested person. Individual teachers will have Visitors' Days and give notice through their pupils. Perhaps we should have organized a Visitors' Day for the whole school. A principal reason for not doing so is scarcity of chairs to seat many visitors. But the smaller groups will see more if they take the liberty to wander around. If I could have my way I would insist that all parents of High School students come to school for at least one day in the bitterest winter weather or during a heavy rainstorm and that they follow classes in their migrations from one school to another.

I am certain that if you fully understood the conditions under which your children spend five and a half hours of each school day, we would not for long have a building problem.

GERALD

Gerald Farm Forum Meetings have been dealing with the question of marketing of farm produce. Such topics as "This Little Pig went to market," "Food in sales clothing," and "Food takes a ride" brought to our attention the need for improved Marketing Methods; and the ponderous question of freight rates and transportation methods. Meetings have been held at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. C. Borch, Mr. and Mrs. W. Taylor. Attendance has been good in spite of cold weather, blizzards, and snow.

The Card party held in Gerald school Wednesday evening, Feb. 23rd was sponsored by Miss F. Shaw and the pupils of the Gerald school and was in aid of the Junior Red Cross. 489 was the game played and the winners of prizes were, First L. Deyell and Lorence Myrland. Low Mrs. R. Deyell and H. Hamilton. Lunch was served by the ladies of the district. The Gerald school Junior Red Cross are sponsoring a dance in the Trafalgar hall on March 4th.

The February meeting of the Gerald Club was postponed until Feb. 25th because of the blizzard the previous week. Mrs. Myrland presided at this meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. R. Deyell. There were 12 members and 4 visitors present. Roll call was answered by the name of a winter hobby. Reports were given on the banquet served to the Wainwright Ladies' Curling Club; the Gerald Ward in the Wainwright hospital and banquet work of 1948.

A contest given by Miss A. Zehnder was won by Mrs. Hamilton. Then all enjoyed the talk over the tea-rune and the lunch served by Mrs. Deyell.

WINTER FEEDING OF BEEF CATTLE

At the Dominion Experimental Station, Swift Current, Sask., intensive investigations have been made into the winter feeding of live stock. With prospects of a limited supply of roughage this coming winter many farmers are wondering what amount of feed will be necessary to maintain beef cattle through the winter.

The investigations of the Station on winter feeding have provided the following information: To maintain beef cattle in normal thrifty growing condition, it requires from eight to ten pounds of hay per day for a calf; 12 to 14 pounds for a yearling, and it to 15 pounds for a mature cow or a two-year old. The feeding period, if no pasture is available, varies from 120 to 150 days, depending on winter conditions. On the foregoing basis, it is a simple matter to estimate the supply of hay required. If the cattle are in poor condition to enter the winter the amount of feed should be increased accordingly.

In the case of a dairy cow, where the beef cow is also fed for milk supply, a satisfactory ration is two pounds of dry roughage for every 100 pounds of the animal's live weight and concentrates at the rate of one pound for every three to four pounds of milk produced. Alfalfa hay and clover hay fit in very well with the cereal grains and prairie hay, and grain hays are more satisfactory with higher protein foods such as bran and oilcake.

Of the grain hays, all have approximately the same feeding value for the maintenance of beef cattle. Spring rye cut in the early dough stage has given good results. Some question has arisen as to wheat hay being too strong a feed for cattle, but no bad results have been found and it is considered one of the best feeds for wintering. It is important, says the Station, that plans should be made now to conserve suitable roughage for winter feeding from every possible source.

MARVELUBE HELPS YOU KEEP DOWN TILLAGE COSTS

Here's why...

The old lubricating oil in your tractor engine contains dirt which increases engine drag, promotes wear, and may result in clogged oil filters, thus causing injury to cylinders and bearings. Refilling with the correct grade of Marvelube for your tractor is good business because—

- 1 Free flowing Marvelube effectively lubricates moving parts for all farm operations.
- 2 Marvelube resists heat—does not break down under continuous operation, but protects against wear under day-in, day-out work.
- 3 Marvelube offers further protection by resisting the formation of carbon and reducing sludge in the crankcase.

Translated into cash benefits for you, the above simply means that frequent servicing with Marvelube lubricants gives your tractor the extra power and smoothness which speeds up all tractor-powered operations on your farm.

Marvelube helps cut down operating costs, aids in avoiding unnecessary replacement of parts, and keeps your tractor on the job longer.

KEEPING A HORSE COST REAL MONEY

Edmonton—The old gray mare just about what she used to be. And the high cost of living is the reason. The horse population is in a steady decline because it costs about $15 a month to keep a horse at a livery stable and about $10 a month to support a milk or bakery wagon horse. "It costs more to keep an old nag in town than it does to maintain a two-toned convertible with dynamo drive and airfoil fenders," says one official of an Edmonton firm which hasn't yet become mechanized.

Demand for horses to take sleigh rides or hay rides also is decreasing. The business is dying a slow death, men who arranged sleigh or hay rides say.

The riding academies are finding the customers few and far between too. It hasn't got to the point where riding stables have cancelled their licenses, but there are signs that some may do so.

There are still the champions of the few horse men who survived the machine age. Veteran men and bakery deliverymen don't think much of the idea of trading their horse and wagon for a sleek new truck.

"No truck has been invented yet that will follow you down the street while you make your rounds," one says.

SALUTE TO AIRMEN

During the past winter Canadian airmen, both the representatives of the service and the cooperator field, have written another glorious chapter into Canadian history through their gallant rescues and flights into the northlands under almost impossible conditions.

Each "Merry Flight" is a new problem in aviation. Recently starving herds of cattle were targeted for bomber planes loaded with hay, while in the Northland in addition to dropping food medical supplies and clothing, one emergency called for a two-way radio set as part of the shipment.

Several times in the past few months planes have been pressed into service to get the critical injured into a hospital, while a flight bringing blood plasma into this city was instrumental in saving the life of a mine fresher. At the moment, like the most northerly outpost of Canadian civilization, pilots making a landing here with emergency cargo during the winter months must make their landing under the most precarious circumstances, this fact is not in keeping with our inclinations toward progress, or our

FINE WEATHER IS REALLY A BREAK FOR ALL

Just over a week ago the temperature was down around 35 or 40 below in the evenings, and spring looked indeed a pretty long way off. However the past week has seen a much appreciated change and Sunday last saw the first sign of spring, and the weather was just what was needed. Since that time continued fine weather has packed the snow a lot and made everything more cheerful.

Some sports thrive on bad weather and some on good. When it's too darn cold to do anything other than sit around the fire we find folks who'd put up an awful squig if the wife asked that a pull of water be brought in, walking away down to the curling rink, or perhaps driving miles to a neighbouring village to "enjoy" a bit of curling. When the temperature eases up, however, they are simply out of luck. On the other hand the boys who like to enjoy a little hockey find the weather just a little too tough on the "wind" and they tend to favor something a little milder, when they can inhale vast gulps of fresh air without taking a chance of getting their lungs frosted. The spectators, too.

Consequently this week saw a lapse in curling, but a revival of hockey. Wainwright team played at Chauvin on Monday night, and if the ice holds good we may look forward to more games in the future.

ARTLAND

Old man winter has finally given us a break in the cold weather, so everybody is taking advantage of it. Shirt sleeves are rolled up and it's a pity for a moment's ride in July. Mrs. Cooke was home visiting her folks for the week end.

Henry Hols and Leslie Halls are visitors to Saskatoon and by reports to date have not yet arrived home.

Quite a few people have been in for curl during the past week, but who wants curl when they've got love to keep them warm?

Elva Curlew went to Wainwright to see the doctor. Hope to see him up and around again soon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Dell returned home on Friday's train from their holidays. They report having had a good trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Hauck (new section worker) moved into town last week. Mrs. Heiser was out home over Sunday, but upon getting badly beaten up from both sides decided to come back to town to work.

Bill Stauden and Steve Skauk were winners of the hockey pool Saturday night.

Alfred Marquardt and Joe Haynam were the other hockey pool.

A card party is being held in Artland tonight, sponsored by the Artland Junior Red Cross. Two apiece, double, redouble, hearts trump, no trump. Date of the above Wed. March 2nd.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Burns were visitors to Unity on Monday, returning on Tuesday's train.

South Notes

February surely did prove itself to be a winter month in the good old fashioned way. The March page of the calendar will be turned up before this appears in print, let's hope it treats us better.

Deepest sympathy extended to Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Readhead on the death of Ivan's father who passed away at his home in Edmonton this week.

Miss Mary Tipler who has been away working for some time came home to visit her parents here this week-end. Among these celebrating birthdays in February in our small community were: Mrs. Burch, Mrs. Levitt, Marjorie Ellis, Alene and Carol Hager. Congratulations all!

The above snow weather brought smiles to everyone and sent them to town over the freshly snow-free roads around the week-end.

We are sorry to report that Murray Hager is in the Provost Hospital and we hope he will be able to come home in a few days.

Another Young People's meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Levitt on Wednesday evening. There was quite a good attendance even if the roads were poor. The latter part of the evening was spent by contestants and

Amateur Hour Draws Overflow Crowd

Once again the Amateur Hour and Dance sponsored by the Chauvin High School has proven a great success. The Legion Hall was attractively decorated in the school colors, blue, red and white, and by 8:30 the hall was filled to capacity without even standing room left.

The program was opened by Mr. H. C. Christie, mayor of the town, who acted as M.C. for the evening. The program consisted of vocal and instrumental, monologues and dancing, and by the measure of applause seemed to have been enjoyed by everyone. The judging was capably handled by Mrs. A. E. Keith, Mrs. H. Wahlberg and Mrs. W. Burton. While the judges were making their decisions, Mrs. Mac Christie played a number of pieces on the piano.

The winning contestants were as follows:

- Junior: 1st-Miriam Farewell, 2nd-Milne Fuhner, 3rd-Betty Russell and Earl McLeod.
- Students: 1st-Ann Spornitz, 2nd-Inez Dally, 3rd-Jean Parrels.
- Open Class: 1st-Muriel Sweeney, 2nd-Gladys Hagen, 3rd-Ernest Carter.

BUTZE

The Butze population is steadily increasing. The CNR paint gang have moved in and are completing the interior decorating in the Sweeney house.

A pair of mules have also taken up very permanent residence hereabouts. All we are lacking now is a mule skinner to take charge.

The coyotes seem to be getting it in the neck these days. The Bayham boys have bagged three pelts this last couple of days.

Ronald Bayham who has been employed on the Artland section is leaving on Monday to weld a shovel with Hawkins section.

The special ratemakers meeting, which was to be held at the school on March 2nd has been postponed until Tuesday, March 8th at 3 p.m.

The Butze, Annie and St. Jean Baptiste ratemakers should keep this date open, as the purpose of the meeting is for discussing a school bus route for the next school term. Mr. Simonson and Mr. Griffiths will be in attendance.

The Stone family are anxiously awaiting the spring break up so they can get their new Ford home. Get it! shovel out Monte, it works. We tried it.

The Saskatchewan snow plow crewed the border on Friday afternoon and opened the roads as far as the Butze corner.

Mrs. Lloyd Bayham spent Thursday afternoon visiting with Mrs. H. Fuhner.

One of our district farmers seems to know how to get action from these snow plow operators. We know who to call on now if we get snowed in again, although we hope he won't have to use his influence any more this year.

Tension has finally eased 'off' to some extent for one of our Butze poultry raisers. Mr. E. Fuhner was the winner of the monthly prize of a hundred baby chicks given away by the Pringle Hatcheries. She is now in line for an aeroplane trip in the spring.

Spring must be on the way, we see our Bearded Bachelor has made a slick job of mowing his stubble.

The spot light shone on our Butze talent at the Chauvin High School Amateur Program on Friday night. Miss Muriel Sweeney took top honors in the open class with a piano selection and Maxine Fuhner took second place in the Junior class, also with a piano solo. Nice work Butze.

Your correspondent is the sad owner of a modern and old time dance in the town of Butze. The sad part of it is the "shelling out".

Dance At Lealholme

The Lealholme U.F.W.A. are holding a modern and old time dance in Prosperity School on Friday, March 11th. Loy orchestra will provide the music. Lunch will be served.

THOUGHTFULNESS COUNTS

When we work and stick it does not seem to be any trouble to pass the time, but as one improves and begins to sit up and take notice, the problem of putting in the relative of each day becomes harder and harder. Then it is that visitors and letters and cards mean so much.

MUST RENT SIDEWALK

Edmonton-Contractors who want to build on streets where there are parking meters still have to pay for the privilege. Protective confederates which prevent work will cost the contractor $1.50 weekly.

MULES NOW EXTINCT IN CHAUVIN DISTRICT

There was a day, many years ago when "Doc" Bingham, and his mules were a familiar sight on Chauvin's streets, but it is years, years, since those worthy beasts of burden took the final and fateful steps which led them to the home of their somewhat doubtful ancestors. However, not so long ago more mules made their appearance in the vicinity, and it looked as though old times might be returning—but alas, their fate was to arrive much sooner than nature had designed. One night, not so long ago, as these hapless creatures were wandering their way who knows where, George Day came along with his car, and the resultant collision opened the party gates for the faithful team, Bob Shepard, who was following George at the time is a man who never likes to see a job left half done. (That wait a minute, perhaps our information is not quite right.) Anyway, the second vehicle crashed into the first, and if the mules weren't dead the first time, they surely were the second.

Who owned these ill-fated animals—nobody seems to know. In any case the union of the Law paid a visit to check up on the matter, and before he left he had decided that a greater mind than his would have to be called in to settle the issue. . . . It is over settled.

And so the war on mules is ended. . . . and peace, perfect peace, again reigns.

In the Legislature

By W. Masson, M.L.A.

"Through the kindness and cooperation of your editor, I propose to again present a weekly commentary on activities in the Legislature for the purpose of picturing to you some of the Session highlights. Many contacts in the past indicate the public's appreciation of these reports made possible by the provision of this space by your editor.

The first session of the eleventh legislature opened on Thursday, February 17th amid much dignity and pomp. Introduced by the firing of a 16 gun salute, the House opened at 10 o'clock with all 57 members present and every available space for visitors and spectators filled to capacity. His Honor, Lieutenant Governor J. C. H. Brown, read the Speech from the Throne after Mr. Peter Dawson had been chosen a Speaker of the Assembly.

The Speech from the Throne has been characterized as one of the best and most far-reaching one in Alberta's history.

Many of the recommendations of the Judge Report will be implemented at this Session which will provide relief to municipalities and improvement of the roads. Further financial assistance is provided for Alberta Old Age Pensioners and Blind Pensioners.

Legislation will be introduced to provide for assistance to children and young people suffering from Arthritis. Three new full-time health units will be established.

The session will from now on be more the costs of construction and maintenance of provincial highways passing through towns and villages. Roads, highways and bridges are being constructed and the year's legislation will be introduced to permit municipalities or portions of municipalities to establish limited jurisdiction areas. A master farmer program will be outlined to the House shortly and details of a tree planting program directed by the Forestry Department will be discussed. Continued assistance will be provided for the erection of seed cleaning plants.

The Speech from the Throne was moved by Mr. Fred Colborne, M.L.A. from Calgary and seconded by Mr. Earl Hardy, M.L.A. of Bruce Constituency. Both paid tribute to the Government's record.

As no opposition group has sufficient numbers to form the official opposition, no leader of the opposition will be recognized.

A motion was passed by the House urging the Dominion Government to permit companies to establish international and/or international pipelines under a general Act rather than each company getting the rights by private bills.

Private bills are subject to so many long and often unnecessary delays that it can affect Alberta's oil development very adversely. Oil production is increasing to the point that no delays should be encountered in getting ready to establish refineries. The motion was presented by Honourable Lucien Maynard and Honourable N. E. Tanner.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Martin Sagenow, who passed away March 2nd, 1938.

Your heart was the Dearest in all the wide world.

You love the best to recall. For no one on earth could take your place.

You are still the dearest of all. Sadly missed.

THE BERNON ON THE MOUNT

The Bernon on the Mount is our subject of study today. This sermon was preached at through Galilee in direct opposition to the campaign which the Zealots were waging against Rome. These Jewish patriots resented the idea of alien domination over God's Chosen People and all through Galilee and Judea they were agitating for the revolt against Rome which came to a head in the tragedy of A.D. 70. Jesus' teachings on love were everywhere pointed against this campaign of hate. It was the way that He wanted the Jewish people to carry out God's purpose of making them His messengers to the nations. Even though it had a direct bearing on the issue of the time this message of love is universal in its obligation and applies to us as closely as it did to them.

Jesus' experience of God revealed God as love, and this revelation determined His conception of His mission and of the means to be used in fulfilling it. It made love the law of life. "My nature is to be moulded by what God is, and not by what men are. Life in the Spirit means life in God as my spiritual environment. Just as physically I live in the light, the air, the solid earth, and sustain my body by drawing on them for what it needs, so in my soul I live in God and through the workings of the Spirit—Faith, prayer, thought and discernment I draw from Him what I need for my soul's support."

Christ found that love prompts all God's treatment of us and must inspire and direct all our dealings with one another.

Whatever nations which profess to be Christian have to say to the rulers of the hour, their goodwill toward the people ought to be made as clear as the sun and as strong as everything that God has said. It is not an impossible dream, and the inventiveness of Christian statesmen can find practical means for carrying it out.

I have put the call of the divine love to the nations first, but that is the wrong order; its appeal comes to us personally. John rings the changes on the new dynamic behind the divine command to love. At every point he has in mind Jesus' words in the "Upp" Discourse: "A new commandment I give unto you that ye love one another as I have loved you." After magnifying the Father's love in sending His Son to be the expiation for our sins, John adds "Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. We know and believe the love God has for us; God is love, and He who abides in love abides in God and God abides in him. We love, because He first loved us."

Not only does God as Christ inspire love, but the Son's example shows the forms which love should take. "By this we know love that He laid down His life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren." Comradeship in battle moved many men to give their life for others. But many a man rises to heroic heights of self-sacrifice in a "crowded hour of glorious life" who fails to live by that love in the commonplace of the common day.

Iceboating—a sport of speed, rugged endurance and skill—is no pastime for weak-hearted men.

It isn't a new sport and not very popular. Yet these men who risk life and limb for the thrill of speed and the lure of a cold wind in their faces can be seen in many scattered spots throughout Canada.

Perhaps the most popular iceboating territory in the Dominion is in Ontario, especially around Toronto, Hamilton and the Lake St. Clair region. But you'll find a few iceboaters wherever there's a body of water large enough, when frozen over, to permit these boats to roam.

Imagine a filmy craft streaking across a sheet of ice at speeds up to nearly 100 miles an hour. Only airplanes and racing cars can outspeed these speed demons. And they have motors to help them along while iceboats depend solely on the breeze and the skill of the yachtsman.

The name yachtsman, generally applied to the man who handles the "fashioning boat," is misleading for iceboating is more like flying than sailing. Iceboats travel eight or nine times faster than sailboats and whip across the ice at three and four times the speed of the wind.

The iceboat—with streamlined frame raked back curved, mast, and sail—races on three knife-like runners.

So John's ad "If anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not live in love or speech, but in deed and in truth." John cannot tolerate a love that is a vague sentiment no matter how it may glow; he wants love to find expression in the concrete and by meeting the needs that men feel as Jesus met them.

here which cut down surface friction or drag to practically nothing. Moving in front of a stiff breeze the iceboat builds up momentum and piles on speed until it is going several times faster than the wind.

Of Dutch Origin

Iceboating originated in The Netherlands some 200 years ago when iceboats were used to move canal boats in winter. The forward section of the boat was raised on a crosswise board fitted with skates and then another skate was placed under the rudder.

It straight running before the wind bore the pilot he can always get a thrill by "hiking" the boat. This is done by catching the wind in the sail so the windward runner "hikes" into the air. With the skate in the air the boat moves on two runners, heeled over at an angle.

If that isn't exciting enough, he can try jumping cracks in the ice when the yachtsman must gauge the width of the crack as he drives towards it. If the crack is wider than the length of his runners, it's just too bad.

Less and less seems to be heard about the sport in Canada as the years pass.

Toronto, for example, was a well-known iceboating centre some time ago. But now with icebreaking tugs moving around the bay, its popularity has declined considerably.

Before the advent of icebreakers, Toronto had an ice-taxi service, plying between the city and the Island resort in the bay.

Now these speed-crazy iceboaters have even found a way to overcome smaller pieces of open water—an amphibious boat has been produced. The iceboat scoots across the ice on its skate-like runners and then floats under sail across the patches of water until it can get onto the ice again.

Care do try your hand at it! We'll take you rummy.

NORTH AMERICA'S ABUNDANCE

Professor George Brown of Michigan State College recently addressed a convention of livestock men in Toronto. He stated that 50 per cent of all energy in the human diet is derived from livestock, as well as 50 per cent of protein, 75 to 80 per cent of minerals, and most of the vitamins. In fact 60 per cent of all are manufactured from grains by animals.

Professor Brown stated that the difference between a land of plenty and a land of starvation is the reliance placed on livestock. In North America there is available 668 pounds of edible dry matter per human, but in Asia they have 844 pounds per human. In North America over 75 per cent of edible dry matter comes from livestock while in Asia only three per cent.

Mr. and Mrs. W. McPeake have returned from their recent visit to Minneapolis. We are sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. McPeake's mother. Sincere sympathy is extended to her in her bereavement.

The first drive and dance which was to have been held at Doley Feb. 18 was postponed on account of the road blockade and severe weather. However we have had a visit from both the north and south snow plows, so at present the roads are very good.

Mr. H. Rice is in Edgerton this week. Mr. Rice went up to do some visiting and some business. Also to pay a visit to the dentist. Frank Kelly is doing the chores while he is away.

Mr. Bob Wilbraham and Miss J. Trotter, supervisors in our district, are taking advantage of the open roads and are driving home to Wainwright for the week-end.

We hear the Regent Oil Drilling Co. intend drilling a well on the farm of Mr. W. C. Taylor soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Knut Enstrom became the parents of a baby boy at the Wainwright Hospital on Tuesday, Feb. 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Alwood paid a visit to Mrs. Alwood's mother in Metiskow last Tuesday. We are sorry to report that Mrs. Hays is suffering from an attack of flu.

Gus Nelson paid a visit to the Doctor last Tuesday. He is suffering from a torn ligament in his back.

The people from Doley wish to thank the Edgerton people for their hospitality during the week-end. A number of them were compelled to stay in town on account of the snow storm and the accommodations were filled to capacity.

The G. T. Scotts are taking possession of a new truck from Mel Nichols this week.

Mr. Jack Varty is having a new motor installed in his truck this week in Metiskow.

Ash Wednesday marks the beginning of Lent, the season of repentance. Everyone knows the meaning of the word "repentance," but few know why they should repent, or what they should repent, and indeed look upon the whole thing as something which does not concern them at all. Our hope is that by the end of Lent we shall understand more of the whole business.

On Ash Wednesday there will be two services as advertised, and these two services will be held every Wednesday during Lent. It is to be hoped that everyone who possibly can will be at the 10:30 a.m. Holy Communion frequently during the season. Concerning the evening service of compline. It is a short and very beautiful service of the Church, of ancient origin, lately come back more and more into use by the Church. It is approved of and used by our Bishop. Everyone knows the meaning of the word "repentance," but few know why they should repent, or what they should repent, and indeed look upon the whole thing as something which does not concern them at all. Our hope is that by the end of Lent we shall understand more of the whole business.

FRAM

This is what goes on in our little circle. Once more our four musketeers are riding again—Eddy, Lloyd, Ernie and Bill are taking to swags and got off to a good start by two losses no wins—yet. Remember the game is never lost until it is won. Watch the brooms go by!

The Beisach Boys, Roy and Harold are stumped stayed in Marsden. Go easy on them flax-jacks boys. The Busy Bess held their meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Powers, with all members present. It was decided to donate money towards the school radio-phonograph, also to donate a number of books to the Marsden Community Library. A committee was appointed to contact the Library Committee at Marsden to see what type of books are needed. The tea time prize was won by Gladys Graham. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. Hulsch on March 16.

Mrs. A. Graham entertained a number of friends last Saturday evening. The evening was spent in contests and whilst. The winners were Mrs. Pollock, Lois Dugman, Mrs. Lloyd Dugman and Louis Swanstrom. Lunch concluded the enjoyable evening.

We saw Lloyd Dugman bringing home a new Pioneer washer. Remember, "Dus Does Everything!" Several of Fram's twenty year olds and under are thinking of entering in Marsden's Junior Bonspiel in March.

FEAR OF CANCER

One of the worst features of cancer is the fear it instills into people. In many cases this fear prevents men and women who suspect they may have cancer from consulting a doctor at once. If you have cancer suspicion, see a physician right away. To delay may be dangerous.

TOWARD PEACE

Pacts as proven in the past have never prevented wars. The people must be in such a position that war is out of their thoughts. That is, unrest in the world must be reduced. To prevent that unrest there must be a decent standard of living for all peoples in all parts of the world.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the friends from whom I received cards, letters and gifts of flowers, fruit etc. while I was a patient in the Lloydminster Hospital and, more recently, in the University Hospital, Edmonton. These expressions of kindness and thoughtfulness were very greatly appreciated.

CLIFFE

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Don Freidland (nee Mable Johnson) on their recent marriage which took place in Wainwright, enroute from Ottawa where they appeared before the Mission Board to make final plans for Mission work in Africa. On their return home they stopped at Prince Albert where they visited at the formers home. They arrived here over the weekend where they will visit with the latter parents and friends, prior to leaving for Africa.

A Valentine party was held at Hallets, the school children enjoying tobogganing and skating. Miss Phyllis Lawson was visiting at the home of Mrs. Doug. Graham. Our Elmo's done it. He was on one of the prize winning rinks. George Chibrl, Joe Watson and O. Catman and Elmo won four, lost four. They won second in the fourth event.

Card of Thanks

The Chauvin Ladies Curling Club would like to thank all those who in any way helped with the banquet and at the lunch counter during the men's bonspiel.
